

Engaging Keynote Presentations and Educational/CE Events

Center Stage Education

 CEs & Keynotes that are Music to Your Ears

CLIENTS INCLUDE:

CE CREDITS CAN BE PROVIDED FOR THE FOLLOWING PROFESSIONS:

- Social Work
- Nursing
- Case Management
- Counseling

We have partnered with hospitals to provide CME credits, and can provide other credits upon request.

"'Turning Thirty' is a truly wonderful and unique program that brings the patient experience to life in a way that is both impactful and unforgettable."

Pamela Peters, PhD

Director, Quality and Strategy,
Medscape Education

Are you searching endlessly for unique and engaging content for your healthcare conferences?

Are you tired of lackluster presentations that leave your audience disinterested and inattentive?

Search no more!

Center Stage Education is changing the world of healthcare education.

Founded by Tom Willner, musician and author who documented his journey as a patient through a powerful musical, and Anne McSweeney, LCSW and Educator, Center Stage Education blends the professional and patient experience together – using music, songwriting, storytelling and performances – to create educational experiences for healthcare professionals.

Emphasizing themes of the patient perspective, clinical empathy, professional burnout, and much more, our presentations will transport your audience on a journey allowing them to walk in the shoes of a patient – experiencing the highs and lows and everything in between.

To bring this innovative presentation to your audience, contact Anne McSweeney at anne@ceucorationsinc.com and leave your days of lackluster presentations behind you. Your audiences will leave motivated, energized, upbeat and forever changed after experiencing this powerful presentation.

About Us

Anne McSweeney, LCSW, President of CEU Creations and co-founder of Center Stage Education, has a diverse background in medical social work and education. With a social work career that spans over two decades, she has been planning educational trainings for healthcare professionals for over 15 years. Earlier in her career, she worked as a licensed medical social worker in home health, hospice and dialysis. Drawing from her varied background and real-life social work experiences, as an educator Anne strives to provide engaging, informative, relevant, and fresh educational seminars that allow the participants to enjoy themselves while gaining useful skills for their daily practices.

Tom Willner, M.Ed., President of Tom Willner Music and co-founder of Center Stage Education, is a musician, published songwriter, playwright, speaker, and author. He is a testicular cancer survivor who has written a musical and a book about his experience that raise awareness and funding for cancer charities and teach about the patient experience. He also has over two decades of experience in technology and digital strategy, most recently helping students succeed at Georgia State University.

Having A Ball At Thirty: How I Got Through Cancer by Writing a Musical

How music, humor, and lots of love helped an artist through his cancer diagnosis and recovery, showing how it can strengthen who you are and inspire what you can become.

"People were crying and laughing, sometimes both at once. As we move on the path to value-based care, the Turning Thirty lessons become even more important. Everyone should see 'Turning Thirty.'"

"The combination of education, story telling and music was excellent. I am recharged by this presentation and reminded not to forget the value of storytelling. Both presenters were genuine and their love for humanity was felt through the screen. There are angels walking on earth and we met two of them today. Thank you!"

<https://www.centerstageeducation.com/>
info@centerstageeducation.com

(404) 939-4866

© 2021 | Center Stage Education